

Brief CV of Dr. Evgenios Goussetis

Dr. Evgenios Goussetis is a founder member of the first pediatric Stem Cell Transplant Unit in Greece. After receiving his education in Medical school of the University of Patras in Greece (1983), he had his clinical training in pediatrics and pediatric hematology-oncology (1985-1992) at the University Pediatric Clinic and the department of pediatric hematology/oncology in Frankfurt University/Germany. He moved back to Greece in 1993, where co-founded the first pediatric Stem Cell Transplant Unit at Aghia Sophia Children's Hospital in Athens. His research interests are hematopoietic stem cell transplantation in hemoglobinopathies and multipotent stem cell biology. He is certified in Pediatrics and in Pediatric Hematology and Oncology. Currently, he serves as clinical program director in Stem Cell Transplant Unit in Greece at Aghia Sophia Children's Hospital, Athens, Greece. He is author or co-author in 60 publications and his work has about 1200 citations.