

Dr. James English MD MRCOG

Curriculum Vitae

Dr. English is currently a consultant gynaecological surgeon at Endometriose in Balans Specialist Endometriosis Referral Centre in Den Haag, Netherlands. He qualified in 1983 from the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland and underwent training in both Ireland and the United Kingdom. His higher surgical training was at Chelsea and Westminster Hospital, London. He served as consultant gynaecologist firstly at Worthing Hospital, West Sussex and later at Brighton and Sussex University Hospitals in the UK as well as Chief of Women's and Children's Services at Worthing Hospital. As a consultant at the latter, Dr. English commenced a tertiary referral service for rectal and bladder endometriosis in 1998 which he maintained at BSUH; Having started in 2000, he has now performed over 400 rectal resections for DIE. During the past eight years Dr. English has developed with colleagues the busiest tertiary referral centre in The Netherlands dealing with severe endometriosis. He specialises in nerve-sparing surgery for rectal, urinary tract and neurological endometriosis and works closely with IVF specialists in the UK and Den Haag. He has published extensively on surgery for rectal endometriosis and the use of transvaginal ultrasound in the diagnosis of rectal and bladder disease.